PARIS HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY FOR 1921-22.

Science—Miss Frances Butler, Kentucky University.

Science and Mathematics—Miss Edith Stivers, Kentucky University.

History and Economics—Miss Reba Lockhart, Chicago University.

Latin—Miss Lucile Harbold, Kentucky University.

English—Miss Elizabeth Noland, Kentucky University.

French—Miss Ruby Dagley, Transylvania University.

Mathematics—Mr. F. A. Scott, Southwestern University, Tennessee.

Home Economics—Miss Maude Asbury, Kentucky University.

Mechanical Drawing and Manual Training—Mr. H. M. Clay, Kentucky University.

Shorthand and Bookkeeping—Miss Margie Kelly, Bowling Green Business University.

Music—Miss Ellen Blanding, Cornell University.

In introducing this faculty to the High School patrons of Paris and Bourbon County, I want to tell you something about each member, particularly along the line of scholarship.

Miss Frances Butler, has an M. A. degree, and is still working along the line of her chosen work, she has spent part of her summer at Chicago University.

Miss Edith Stivers, in addition to her B. A. degree from Kentucky State University, has had one year of graduate work in the University of Cincinnati.

Miss Reba Lockhart, is a candidate for the M. A. degree in the University of Chicago.

Miss Lucile Harbold, A. B. Kentucky University, has spent this summer at Columbia University where she is working for an M. A. degree in Latin.

Miss Ruby Dagley, has an M. A. degree from Transylvania University, and is this summer studying in the University of Paris, France.

Miss Elizabeth Noland, A. B. degree, Kentucky University, has spent this summer in Columbia University working for an M. A. degree in English.

Mr. F. A. Scott, the teacher in Mathematics, holds an A. B. degree from the Southwestern University of Tennessee. For the past eight years Mr. Scott has been superintendent of the schools at Eminence, Ky., with the exception of two years he spent in the U. S. Army in France. The past two summers Mr. Scott has spent at Columbia University working for his M. A. degree.

Miss Maude Asbury, B. S., Kentucky University, meets every requirement of the Smith-Hughes federal vocational educational law.

Miss Ellen Blanding has spent this summer in Cornell University studying public school music with the famous Dr. Hollis Dann, author of the Hollis Dann music course for the public schools.

Miss Margie Kelly, in addition to being a graduate of the Bowling Green Business University, has done one year of graduate work in advanced work in her field. She has spent part of this summer in school.

Mr. Horace Miller Clay, Kentucky University, graduate from the Manual Training High School of Louisville before entering Kentucky University. This summer he has been engaged in some field work in engineering. He will teach this year, in addition to Mechanical Drawing, some work in Descriptive Geometry and Manual Training.

A new teacher is yet to be selected for a position in the junior High School. This teacher will be a standard college graduate. The work in English and Mathematics from the Seventh Grade on will be taught by college graduates. It can be seen from a study of the High School faculty that every member has done some graduate work above the regular college degree and many of them well along towards their Master degree.

It is with a great deal of satisfaction that I present to the patrons of the Paris High School this faculty. Students expecting to attend the Paris High School are requested to register now. Freshmen, Sophomore and Junior students can register any day.

Senior students are to register Monday, Aug. 22. Paris interested in any department of the school's work are invited to visit the school any day between the hours of 9 A. M. and 3 P. M.

A review of the grade teachers for this year, telling of their summer studies for the past summer, etc., will be given to the public next week.

GOOD SCHOOL WEEK MUST BE MADE A SUCCESS FOR SAKE OF THE CHILDREN

How much are Kentucky's children worth?

According to the table of accident insurance each child has:

Two eyes worth $2,000

each $4,000.00

Two ears worth $2,000

each $4,000.00

Two arms worth $1,000

each $2,000.00

Two hands worth $500.00

each $1,000.00

Two legs worth $1,000

each $2,000.00

Total value of child . . . $13,000.00

Multiply $13,000 for 650,000, the number of Kentucky's children of school age, and we have $8,450,000.00.

If a child has good health, ambition, perseverance, and determination to do something worth while in the world, he or she is beyond all price.

William Jennings Bryan says that there was one poor, neglected Kentucky boy who actually earned for his country $500,000,000—Abraham Lincoln.

The stock of Lincoln and the spirit of Lincoln still live in Kentucky.

They are capable of doing anything which has been or which will be accomplished by the human race.

What they need is a chance for the right sort of an education—an equal chance for every one of them, no difference where he lives or what he is. Give him a chance—an equal chance.

We do not need to have poor schools.

We can provide—

Comfortable school houses,

Pure water,

Decent outhouses,

A jacketed stove,

Comfortable seats,

A play ground,

A work shop.

We can—

Clean up, paint up, fix up,

Hire a good teacher,

Pay a decent salary,

Provide some place for the teacher to live,

Teach the children worth-while things.

We can—

Send our children regularly to school,

Provide them with necessary books,

Encourage them in their studies,

Teach them to respect their teacher,

Train them to work and obey,

Sympathize with them in their difficulties,

Teach them to love our country and to obey its laws.

We can organize Parent-Teacher Associations that will—

Work for the school and boost school.

Put window shades at the window and pictures on the walls,

Provide warm lunches for the children,

Help them to make play ground apparatus,

Assist them with their entertainments,

Put a few books in the school library,

Encourage pupils and teachers.

Surround the school with goodwill and good cheer—make a wholesome atmosphere.

We can—

Elect competent members on the Board of Education,

See that enough money is levied to maintain the schools properly,

Insist on the elimination of politics in the appointment of superintendents, teachers and attendance officers,

Make known to our Senators and Representatives the needs of the schools and our wishes relative to education,

Demand that teachers, school board members and other public officials do their duty.

Protect and defend the rights and privileges of our children and see to it that every one has a chance.

Heaven itself cannot help us if we have no desire to help ourselves.

What should the people of Kentucky as a State do for her schools?

Provide a competent, well-trained teacher for every school.

Provide sufficient funds to maintain a good school in every district of the State.

Provide competent leadership for the schools.

Enact an up-to-date school code and see to it that it is enforced.

Manifest a genuine and sustained interest in education.

What things need be done first?

Pass the two constitutional amendments:

One to take the great office of Superintendent of Public Instruction out of politics and to make it possible to have some sort of continuous educational policy.

The other to improve the method of distributing school funds so as to make it possible to have an efficient school in every part of Kentucky.

Elect a Legislature favorable to educational progress.

Conduct a campaign for better schools in every part of the State.

In behalf of the children of Kentucky, we appeal to the people of Kentucky to see to it that the schools of Kentucky shall no longer rank forty-fifth, but among the best of the nation.

It can be done.

The best way to teach boys the decimal and percentage system is to let 'em figure baseball averages.

People are never to happy as when giving out information—that's why there is so much misinformation.

MAYSVILLE MAN BLIND ELEVEN YEARS GETS SIGHT

William B. Dawson, of Maysville, 80 years old, who after eleven years of blindness, has regained his sight sufficiently to distinguish certain objects, left last week for Cincinnati, where he will undergo an operation which, it is promised, will enable him to see well.

Mr. Dawson retired from the Maysville police force when he was stricken, after many years of service.

During his years of darkness his chief diversion was attending baseball games. Though sitting in utter darkness he could tell when a batter hit the ball, in which direction it went and whether it was a safe hit.

The first indication that he would see again came about two weeks ago, when he learned he could distinguish light from darkness. Later he was able to see the windows in his room.

Check Protection without a Machine

Given Without Cost
to Our Depositors

To combat the numerous frauds caused by "raising" checks, we have adopted the Protectu Check System. Each Protectu check has a series of numbers lithographed in indelible ink at the end of each check [like a money order]. By a cutting device provided with each check book, the end can be torn so that the highest amount indicated on the margin of the check represents the maximum amount of check.

This special size business check book, three checks to a page, is suitable for all business firms.

Protectu checks may also be had in two pocket sizes.

If you are considering opening a checking account, by all means come in and see this ADDITIONAL service that we are giving free to our patrons.
